Hello.

I spoke to our most knowledgable technician about a good inexpensive no-drift AM-FM radio. He said that any good RCA, Zenith or Motorola will do the job for you.
As for getting one cheap, the technicians (a pack of liars anyway) claim to be unable to get a discount. And we are, unfortunately, at the moment, without an appliance sponsor. Your best bet is prbably one of the discount houses.
By the way, maybe you can help me with something. We ~~one~~ once spoke of the fact that you as pioneer in Commission research and criticism were having much of your work pirated, getting little or no credit or recognition. You said it would be a good topic of a magazine article.
Would you please send me all the facts you have in this area. I am very interested.

My best,

Maury
